

EMLS Board Member Advert

EM LawShare is run by a management board of up to 12 individuals appointed from our member organisations and we have a vacancy – would you like to join us?

We are particularly keen to hear from people who are less than 3 years qualified either as a solicitor, barrister, or legal executive or in a similar role in one of our member organisations and who would like to be involved in some of our key decisions, offering fresh perspective, ideas and challenge in a friendly and supportive environment. You would gain new skills and experience of board level discussions and help us to shape our strategy.

The Board meets four times a year via Teams. In person meetings are occasionally held in Nottingham, and we can also cater for hybrid meetings. We would also expect you to join at least one of our special project groups and work with our partner firms to help deliver some of our outstanding added value services for our members such as our training programme, biennial conference and lecture, development network and of course, the procurement in 2026 of our new partner firms.
